Home-buyers Get Good News; Requirements on Credits Relaxed by Ike

Strong Drive in Congress to Get Mortgage Money Easier

WASHINGTON (UP) — Homebuyers had some good news today from the White House and Congress.

President Eisenhower has relaxed credit requirements for home-buyers and a strong drive is on in Congress to make it easier for them to get mortgage money.

Mr. Eisenhower Friday ordered the minimum down-payment on FHA-financed homes reduced by 2 per cent to the lowest level permitted by law: 5 per cent on the first $9,000 and 25 per cent on amounts over that.

Mr. Eisenhower also announced that federal home loan bank board regulations will be modified to enable insured savings and loan associations to buy into mortgages originated by other insured associations.

The White House said this rule would relax present restrictions requiring most associations to invest in mortgages on homes located within 50 miles of their principal office. The idea is to make more mortgage funds available in areas where they are now inadequate.

The President acted a few hours after a House banking subcommittee completed action on an omnibus housing bill that would go far beyond administration recommendations in pumping funds into the "tight" mortgage market.

Albert Rains (D-Ala) subcommittee chairman, termed the President's interest cut a "minor" step in the right direction. Two other subcommittee members —Rep. Gordon L McDonough (R-Calif) and Thomas L. Ashley (D-Ohio) — agreed with Rains that the President should have done so "months ago."

They also predicted that Congress — despite threats of a presidential veto — would approve use of one billion dollars from the GI life insurance reserve fund for veterans' home loan mortgages. This was the most controversial provision included in the subcommittee's omnibus bill.

Overwhelming Okay Seen

McDonough said the move was necessary to ease the "tight" mortgage market and predicted it would win such overwhelming congressional approval Mr. Eisenhower would not veto it.

The omnibus bill, which is slated for full committee approval next Tuesday, would also:

—Create a "veterans preference" in the FHA program. Veterans' down-payments would be cut 50 per cent below down-payments required of non-veterans. Veterans' financing charges would be held to 5 per cent, with the government absorbing the additional ½ per cent insurance premium charged other FHA home buyers.

—Provide the Federal National Mortgage Association with an additional 1 billion dollars in borrowing authority, or 500 million dollars more than the administration requested. These funds would be used to purchase government-backed mortgages from lenders who want more ready cash.

—Permit some further lowering in down-payments for non-veterans. This was the only feature in which the subcommittee's bill fell short of administration recommendations.

'Flat-top' Look To Cost Money

Effective Monday, it will cost 25 cents more for that "flat-top" look if you get your hair clipped in Fayette County.

The Fayette County Barbers Association announced today that flat-top haircuts will cost an additional 25 cents after Monday. Flat-top haircuts will cost $1.75 instead of $1.50.

In making the announcement, Gregory Bokosh, secretary, explained that it takes twice as long to give flat-top haircuts as it does regular ones.

Cigaret Lighter Mogul Is Fined In Tax Evasion

PITTSBURGH (UP)—George D. Blaisdell, a grade school graduate who made a fortune with a cigaret lighter, was fined $24,000 Friday because he "left money matters to others."

Federal Judge Herbert P. Sorg imposed the fine after the 61-year-old founder and treasurer of the Zippo Manufacturing Co pleaded guilty to evading $28,248 in corporate income taxes for 1950 through 1952.

"Your reputation and good works are going to stand you in good stead," the judge said as he passed sentence.

Charles E. Kenworthey, Blaisdell's attorney, had argued that his client was not aware of the income tax deficiencies. Blaisdell signed the blank returns and the accountant filled in the figures, the attorney said.

Internal Revenue Service officials said Blaisdell had charged extensive repair and remodeling bills for private homes to the corporation as expenses or advertising.

Blaisdell also was charged with cheating on personal income tax returns to the tune of $62,445 but those charges were dropped on the request of U S. Attorney D. Malcolm Anderson.

Kidnaped Woman Is Sighted by Iranian Troops

TEHRAN, Iran (UP)—Iranian officials are now negotiating with a messenger from the bandit gang that kidnaped an American woman official sources said today. They said American representatives are sitting in on the negotiations.

Authorities said there were hopes for the rescue of the American woman, Mrs. Anita Carroll, kidnaped Sunday by bandits who killed her husband and another U. S. aid official.

Iranian troops believed they have cut off the bandits' escape route in the remote wasteland of Baluchistan near the Pakistan border.

The Iranian Gendarmerie (federal police) reported that Mrs. Carroll has been sighted with a group of women who split from the bandit tribe which kidnaped her.

It was not immediately known where the negotiations with the bandit gang envoy were being held.

But the new developments spurred new hopes that the blonde American woman, from Issaquah, Wash., is still alive.

Traffic Cop Is Not About to Arrest President

WASHINGTON (UP)— If President Eisenhower wants to continue breaking the speed laws while motoring to his Gettysburg, Pa., farm, not a traffic cop is about to stop him.

But that definitely doesn't apply to reporters and photographers who sometimes have to travel close to 100 miles an hour to keep the Chief Executive's car in sight.

County, state police and safety officials preferred to look the other way Friday when the President drove to his Pennsylvania farm at speeds exceeding town and open highway limits. The swift-moving caravan included four White House cars, among them the President's limousine and three other cars bearing reporters and photographers

Just north of Rockville, Md., the procession was doing 60 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone when into the scene moved a Montgomery County police car. The officers ignored the President's sleek limousine, but they ordered reporters to slow down.

"Why don't you slow down the President?" the reporters shouted.

"Because he's got four bodyguards with him," the police said and the cruiser held the press cars down to 55 miles an hour until they reached the county line. Mr. Eisenhower was far out of sight by this time.

It took the reporters about 20 miles and speeds close to 100 miles an hour to rejoin the caravan at Frederick, Md

White House Press Secretary James C Hagerty reserved comment and seemed to wish he had not heard about the incident. The National Safety Council and the American Automobile Association took the same position.

Five Persons Hurt in Two Area Accidents

Five persons, including three from Monessen, were injured in two separate accidents reported today by the State Police.

The Monessen persons were hurt about 8:30 last night in a two-car mishap on Route 71 near Belle Vernon.

Treated at Charleroi-Monessen Hospital for minor injuries and then released were Wilfred Tunney, 30, of 12 Keystone drive; Lewis Alesioni, 35, of 17 Overhill drive, and Joseph Kotura, 32, of 61 Willow drive, all of Monessen. All were riding in the car, driven by Kotura.

The accident, police said, occurred when Kotura's car was struck by a vehicle operated by Thomas Branch, 17, of Charleroi.

Damage was estimated at $800.

A McKeesport man, John Owac, 40, and a Fairchance man, Owen O'Connor, 32, were injured when their cars collided on Route 51 near Twin Coaches about 1 a. m. today.

The men were treated for minor injuries at Charleroi-Monessen Hospital.

The two cars were traveling in opposite directions when they crashed, completely demolishing both cars.

Changes Registration

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Mrs. John Drew, whose husband is a Republican candidate seeking nomination for mayor, plans to switch her registration to the GOP ranks today.

Three Motor Accidents Reported in Monessen

Three motor accidents occurred in Monessen yesterday and early this morning, Chief of Police Michael Kuvinka said today.

Two cars were involved in a collision at Sixth street and Reed avenue about 3:45 yesterday afternoon. The drivers were Robert Hubicko, of 651 South 14th street, and Carl S. Hupchick, of 241 East Schoonmaker avenue.

A passenger in the Hubicko machine, Walter Painter, of Webster, told police he bumped his forehead against the windshield in the accident. He did not require medical attention, it was reported.

The front ends of both cars were damaged.

An accident at 4:25 this morning resulted in the arrest of John Dudzik, of 314 Rebecca street, on a charge of operating a vehicle while under the influence of liquor.

Police said the Dudzik car was traveling east on Schoonmaker avenue at First street when he collided with a truck driven by Edward Capozza, of 533 Sixth street.

Dudzik was pronounced under the influence by Dr. Vincent Bolton. He is scheduled for a hearing before Alderman Emil Gaspich.

Both vehicles had to be towed away.

Mrs. Helen Nemoseck, of 632 Delaware street, told police that a car ran into and damaged the steps of her home about 9.30 last night.

When police arrived, they said they found an unoccupied car near the scene. Police identified it as belonging to Leonard Nevala, of 1624 Maple avenue, who has yet to be contacted.

Police are investigating.

HOME FOR A CAMPAIGN—Leaving "Fifth amendment territory," Teamsters president Dave Beck chats with stewardess Lou Wilett at Chicago airport on flight to Seattle. Beck, who had been flayed by Senate racket probers, said he was going to Seattle to set up a "million-dollar topnotch campaign" to tell about "our side of the story."

Signs of Rift Show In Teamsters Union

WASHINGTON (UP) — The high command of the Teamsters Union began to split today under AFL-CIO pressure on the rank and file to clean house of the nation's biggest union.

The AFL-CIO pressure was certain to increase.

Teamster Secretary - Treasurer John English was the first top Teamster official to split publicly with Teamster President Dave Beck following his suspension Friday by the AFL-CIO Executive Council from the AFL-CIO leadership.

Observers said his split may well provide a rallying point for a rank and file revolt that already is stirring.

Publicity Plan Challenged

English publicly challenged Beck's announcement that the Teamster executive board had approved a one million dollar war chest for a publicity program to counter Senate Rackets Committee charges that Beck took $322,000 in union funds for his personal use.

"I know of no board action that has been taken in the matter and as a board member I have not even been consulted," English said. "As long as I am general secretary-treasurer I will oppose any use of the union funds for that purpose."

Beck said at his home in Seattle, Wash, that English was incorrect.

"It was approved in a telephone poll," Beck said. "Everybody was for it"

No Comment From Beck

Beck had no comment on the AFL-CIO Executive Council's suspension action or its order that he stand union trial May 20 on charges of "bringing the labor movement into disrepute."

Nor did he have any comment on the council's code of its ethical practices committee to investigate the Teamsters to determine whether it is dominated by "corrupt influences."

The Executive Council acted within two days after Beck invoked the Fifth Amendment 117 times about his finances before the Rackets Committee.

The council opened the way toward increasing pressure on the 1,500,000 teamsters to oust Beck and many of his associates at the Union's convention in September.

TV Channel 11 Begins July 15

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Television Channel 11 is scheduled to begin operations July 15 in Pittsburgh through station WIIC and will be a primary affiliate of the National Broadcasting Co.

Pittsburgh's second very high frequency station is now under construction in the city's Fineview section and will offer a full schedule of NBC programs day and night, it was announced by the network and Oscar M. Scholoss, president of WWSW, Inc.

WIIC will take over NBC shows now shown over KDKA-TV, Channel 2, which switches to the Columbia Broadcasting System when the new station begins operations.

Fines in Photo Ban Case Stand, Court Declares

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The Pennsylvania Supreme Court yesterday refused to dismiss fines levied against seven newspaper publishers, editors, reporters and photographers in the Westmoreland County photo ban case

The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette and the Tribune-Review Publishing Co. of Greensburg had appealed the fines levied for taking courthouse pictures of John Wesley Wable, the "Turnpike Phantom Killer," in defiance of a county court order.

The United States Supreme Court three weeks ago refused to hear the appeals of the two newspapers from a previous Pennsylvania high court ruling upholding the contempt of court action

The newspapers, however, still are fighting the case in the federal courts where arguments will be heard here May 20 by Judge Wallace S Gorley Yesterday's refusal to dismiss fines, ranging from $100 to $500, was on a 6-1 vote of the Pennsylvania justices.

109-year-old Faces Surgeon's Knife Today

PENSACOLA, Fla. (UP)—Florida's 109-year-old Confederate veteran, William A. (Uncle Bill) Lundy, goes under the surgeon's knife today for the second time within a month.

Physicians emphasized that the operation, scheduled for 2:30 p.m. EST, is a minor one and that the old warrior was in "fine condition."

Lundy, one of the three survivors of the Civil War, underwent prostate surgery here March 4 and was brought back Friday by ambulance from his son's home near Cressview, some 35 miles east of Pensacola for a checkup.

Dr William Miller said Lundy had been "feeling uncomfortable" in recent days and said he felt more surgery would relieve Lundy's discomfort. Miller said no complications are expected and that Lundy should be able to return home early next week.

Lord Salisbury Quits in Protest

LONDON (UP)—Lord Salisbury, one of Britain's most powerful statesmen, resigned from the government in protest against the release from exile of Archbishop Makarios of Cyprus, it was announced today.

Britain's press unanimously tagged his unexpected resignation as a severe blow to the Conservative government whose popularity has been falling steadily since the abortive decision to invade Egypt last November.

Motorists were reminded by police today they must have 1957 license plates on their automobiles by Sunday midnight.

A state Revenue Department spokesman emphasized there will be no extension of the deadline.

Egypt Operating Suez Canal on Own Terms; First Convoy Success

Actual Freeing Of Bridge May 15 Is Assured

Gov. George Leader said today Pennsylvania's 10 state-owned toll bridges, including the Charleroi-Monessen, will be freed on May 15. He vetoed a measure that would have fixed May 30 for the termination of tolls.

Leader said in his veto, the first bill be disapproved this session, that the state Highways Department, barring unforeseen circumstances, is prepared to lift the tolls no later than May 15.

"This means that if this bill were to become law, the people of this Commonwealth would be required to pay tolls for the use of these bridges for an additional 15 days," the governor said

"We should not delay freeing the bridges even one day beyond the time necessary to accumulate sufficient funds to retire all outstanding bonds."

The spans were purchased through an 8½-million-dollar bond issue in 1949. Less than two months of toll collections are expected to be enough to call in all remaining bonds and pay the interest.

The bridges actually cost a net of $7,798,000.

Besides the Charleroi-Monessen bridge, others to be freed are located at Clarks Ferry, Allentown, Ellwood City, Koppel, Sunbury, Point Marion and two each at Bethlehem and Harrisburg.

Truman Against Ike's Proposal To Change Law

NEW YORK (UP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said today he is "very much against" President Eisenhower's proposal that the Constitution be amended to make it possible for the President to declare himself incapable of carrying on his duties.

"The hardest thing in the world for any man to do is to declare himself incompetent," Mr. Truman told newsmen during a brisk morning walk.

"I understand the proposal would also make it possible for the cabinet and vice-president to decide in some cases whether the President is competent," he said.

"Well, I don't believe in government by cabinet and I never have. I'd have liked to see any cabinet try to tell me I was no longer capable of acting as president."

In other comment during his brisk 30-minute walk, Mr. Truman told trailing reporters "there never was a rift on my part" with President Eisenhower.

"After all," he said, "I helped to make Mr. Eisenhower what he is. What more could I do?"

Mr. Truman termed revelations of the Senate Rackets Committee concerning ousted Teamster Boss Dave Beck a "disgrace." He said union trust funds should be regulated by federal law "just like the banks are."

Belle Vernon and North Belle Vernon fire companies were called out at 10:45 last night to extinguish a chimney fire at the residence of Paul Puglia, of 306 Main street. Little damage was reported.

West May Have to Play the Suez Game the Nasser Way

By UNITED PRESS

Egypt successfully got a big convoy of foreign ships through the Suez Canal today for the first time in five months.

Western diplomats in Cairo said the move presented the Western Big Three with the accomplished fact that Egypt is operating the waterway under its own terms.

They said the United States, Britain and France soon would have to give in to President Gamal Abdel Nasser and play the Suez Canal game his way.

The convoy of nine ships flying Italian, Russian, Romanian, Greek and German flags steamed through Port Said and into the Mediterranean to a deafening salvo of whistles and cheers.

The convoy started from Port Suez at the south end of the waterway Friday and anchored overnight in the Great Bitter Lakes when a sandstorm forced it to stop. It completed the 101-mile journey today.

Under Protest

A dispatch from London said Britain already was preparing "grudgingly" to allow its ships to use the canal on Nasser's terms. But it said the London government would do so "under protest," reserving rights for the final settlement of the Suez conflict.

Although the British Foreign Office maintained complete silence, informed sources said Britain was seeking American support for at least some modifications of the Egyptian terms.

In New Delhi, informed Indian sources reported that Egypt has agreed to discuss in the world court the issue of Israel's right of free passage through the Suez Canal.

The sources said Egypt was willing to discuss any disputed point in the world court on the basis of the original Suez Canal convention of 1888.

In Washington, US officials were reported cool to the go-it-alone plan but said it might be used as a basis for further negotiations.

US officials were careful not to brand the canal plan as completely unacceptable. They said they would ask the Egyptian government to give more details.

A "memorandum" given to foreign embassies in Cairo said Egypt would collect all tolls, live up to the 1888 Convention, compensate stockholders of the old company, keep tolls at their present level and assign a five per cent royalty to the government.

In both Egypt and Israel, a great deal of attention was being paid to insulating the two countries from attacks and counter attacks — particularly in the Gaza Strip area.

Students Fired On

A Brazilian member of the United Nations Emergency Force fired a rifle shot into the air in Gaza town Friday to break up a demonstration of Arab students It was the first such action by UNEF since March 10. No one was injured.

In other Middle East developments:

The French foreign ministry denounced Soviet accusations that France is conspiring with Israel to start a new Middle East conflict

In Jerusalem, an Israeli foreign ministry spokesman charged UNEF had been ineffective in preventing Arab raids from Egypt into Israel since the cease fire.

Monday Is Final Day To Register to Vote

Monday is the final day to register for voting or to change party affiliation for the May primary election.

The Westmoreland County Voters' Registration office in the courthouse at Greensburg will have special office hours to accommodate all those who wish to register.

Robert DeLotto, chief registrar, announced yesterday that office hours will be from 8:30 a m. to 9 p. m. on Monday.

Change of address cards will be accepted until Tuesday.

Polio Fighters To Decide on Vaccine Rations

WASHINGTON (UP)— Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney called polio fighters into conference here today to decide whether voluntary rationing of Salk vaccine is necessary.

A shortage of Salk shots developed suddenly last month when Americans began responding to a "get vaccinated" campaign. The campaign was launched earlier in the year at a time when public apathy had permitted 26 million doses of the vaccine to pile up on manufacturers' shelves.

Burney invited a dozen representatives of the American Medical Association, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and the Association of State and Territorial Health Officers to the strategy meeting at Public Health Service headquarters.

He planned to give them an up-to-date report on the vaccine demand and supply situation, with estimates of future production and figures on inventories on hand in various areas.

Public health officials said Burney wanted the group's views on the desirability of re-instituting the government's voluntary allocation system which was suspended last July 31 when demand for vaccine began to fall off.

The system was designed to channel available shots to the "priority group" most susceptible to polio — youths under 20 and pregnant women. The Public Health Service recommended to manufacturers how their output should be distributed so that each state got a fair share based on the number of persons in the priority group.

Bentleyville Man Gets Jail Sentence

Chester Ross, of Bentleyville, went to jail for three months and was fined $50 for pointing a deadly weapon, following a hearing yesterday.

Ross was arrested March 13 by Bentleyville police after complaints by Ross' wife and neighbors.

Ross told Washington County court he had drunk a half-gallon of wine prior to creating a disturbance with a knife and a double-barreled shotgun which he termed unloaded and obsolete.

Greene Physician Dies in Nineveh

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (UP)—Dr Arthur T. Murray, 76, a practicing physician in Greene County for almost 50 years, died Friday at his home in nearby Nineveh.

Murray started practice in the foothill country of the community in 1908, shortly after he had been graduated from the medical school of former Western University of Pennsylvania, now the University of Pittsburgh.

He was Greene County medical director for many years.

Parente Slate Endorsed By Democratic Group

The present Democratic City administration was endorsed for re-election by the Monessen Democratic Committee last night at a meeting in the City Building, William Rapsack, chairman, announced. Twenty-four of the 29 committeemen attended.

The endorsement means the committee will work for the re-election of Mayor Hugo J. Parente, Councilmen David Victoria and John Molnar, Treasurer John Spielman and Controller James Tucci.

Last night's meeting was open to all Democratic candidates for City offices. Only two, Manuel Monios, candidate for controller, and John Harhai, candidate for council, were unable to attend.

Each candidate was permitted to make a five-minute talk at the meeting, which was not open to the public or press.

Others besides members of the administration who spoke included John R. Stieska, mayor candidate; William Snyder and Stephen Sinchak, council candidates; Dr. G. L. Trilli who is opposing Speilman, and Kenneth McNaughton, candidate for controller.

Stieska, who is opposing Parente for the Democratic mayoralty nomination, told The Daily Independent today that he urged the committee to remain "neutral" in the primary campaign.

"I told them their duty is to the whole party, not just to one faction," Stieska said. "It is the job of the Democratic voters to choose the Democratic candidates

A MUST FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY!

Ask these Questions before you buy

Salesmen are at work in this city selling family lots in a partially developed cemetery on a high pressure, house-to-house basis. You may be called on next.

You'll probably be told that you are one of a select few to be offered these lots at a bargain price. You'll be asked to buy that very hour from architect's drawings only.

FOR YOUR PROTECTION, ask the man these questions:

Why can't I go out and see the property before purchasing it?

What proof is there that the cemetery will ever be completed?

Who are the trustees of the perpetual care fund?

Why do you insist on a decision at once?

Why must I sacrifice the traditional American custom of honoring my family with a monument of marble or granite?

Get the answers to these questions. Then, before you act, get the advice of your attorney, the trust officer of your bank, or any accredited funeral director.

You owe it to yourself and your family to investigate before you invest. It may save you a lifetime of regret.

Steps Taken to Pave Streets In Fayette City

Steps were taken Thursday morning by Borough Council to pave additional streets in the hill district.

Council Secretary Edward Shook was instructed to prepare advertisement of bids for 2,000 feet of curbing. The program will get under way in May.

A general clean-up program was approved which will include the cleaning of Cook's Run of silt and debris which has collected along the banks.

Each year, council was informed, heavy rains cause extensive damage in the Navaho Hollow district because the creek bed is not deep enough to carry away the water.

In addition local citizens are being asked to clean up unsightly lots in the downtown section of the borough.

Tax Ordinance

Final action was taken on the tax ordinance at the meeting conducted by John Canigiani, president. The tax ordinance calls for 20 mills on real estate and $5 per capita.

Three visitors were at the meeting. They were Stephen Vesely, representing St. Edward Catholic Church, and Mrs. Dorothy Riley and Dwight Henry, property owners adjoining church grounds.

Vesely asked Council to consider making Short street 24 feet wide to permit parking on both sides and allow a lane for cars to get through them when the street is paved.

He also asked that St. Edward, at its own expense, be permitted to open a street at the rear of the Henry property beyond the Riley property and connect to the street at the rear of the church.

Attending the meeting were Louis Alberta, Jacob Zubovic and Norman Humphries, councilmen and Howard Opfar, burgess.

Suzie Hamer New Brownie Troop Head

Suzie Hamer was elected president of Brownie Troop 7 Thursday afternoon. Other officers named were:

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Clarence Young, president, donations were voted for flowers for shut-ins.

B52 Explodes in Air; Two Crewmen Reported Dead

SKIATOOK, Okla. (UP) — A giant B52 Stratofortress exploded in air Friday, killing two crewmen and raining burning wreckage over the countryside, barely missing the middle of little Skiatook.

Two of the crew of four parachuted to safety and the others went down with the plane. They were pulled from the fuselage and cockpit.

One of those parachuting, co-pilot Charles P. Craven, 4, of Wichita, Kan., suffered a fractured skull and was believed in critical condition. The other, technical observer Earl C. Reed, 30, also of Wichita, was unhurt.

The dead were identified as Ross B. Patrick, 37, the pilot, of Wichita, Kan., and John W. McCort, 32, navigator, from Mulvane, Kan., near Wichita.

All four aboard the plane were civilians from the Boeing aircraft plant at Wichita. The plane was on a test flight.

About 40 plate glass windows were shattered in Skiatook, 15 miles from Tulsa. Sheriff's officers set up an all-night vigil to prevent looting.

Scenes like this are as commonplace as the moonbeams that play on the nursery wall. Little Gail doesn't know it . . . but Daddy and Mummy "look in" on her every night.

But what of the hours when parents sleep? What of the busy playtime when Daddy's at work, and Mummy's in the kitchen, and Gail is out walking her doll? Who will "look in" then?

Centuries ago the Hebrew pilgrims went up to Jerusalem for the great feasts, lifting their eyes to the hills, singing the song of "The Divine Vigil."

He that keepeth thee will not slumber rang the voice of the leader. He that keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep answered the chorus.

Even the loving care of parents is no substitute for the faithfulness of God. When you worship in church next Sunday you'll be expressing the ageless conviction: My help cometh from the Lord.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are. (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sales Tax Parley Sunday

HARRISBURG (UP) — Gov. George M. Leader will huddle Sunday night with top Republican and Democratic leaders in a last ditch effort to reach agreement on the amended 3 per cent sales tax passed by the General Assembly.

Invitations were extended 18 leaders of the two parties, including 12 Republicans, to gather for the dinner - meeting at the Executive Mansion. All are lawmakers with the exception of Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom.

The Republican controlled House Monday approved Senate inserted sales tax amendments spelling out exemptions for shipbuilders, manufacturers and public utilities over Democratic objections. Leader told a joint session of the Legislature the next day the GOP version of the tax "begins to smack of greed and tax-dodging.

The governor was expected to renew his plea that the Legislature recall the sales tax for revision in a joint House-Senate conference committee. His argument would be backed up by a state Justice Department report which said the Republican version would leave the sales tax open to constitutional attack which "may result in invalidation." The 36-page report listed 10 points where "essentially corrective" amendments were needed.

Cool to Request

Republican leaders threw cold water on Leader's recall request. House Republican Floor Leader Albert W. Johnson (McKean) said his party would not recall the bill and would vote down any Democratic delegation attempt. Bloom added if any changes were made in the legislation it would be done by further amendments, probably after it has passed into law.

Leader declined to discuss what course he would take if the compromise meeting fails. He has until midnight, April 4, to take one of three options—sign the bill into law, let it become law without his signature or use his veto power.

Republicans have threatened to let the present 3 per cent sales tax expire on May 31 if the governor vetoes the bill. That would leave the administration with a 2 per cent tax and the unwanted stamp plan method of collections.

The General Assembly itself settles down to work Monday afternoon with the Senate ready for a four-day work week and the House reported ready to follow suit. The speedup was aimed at expediting a proposed May 30 adjournment date.

The House could move for concurrence of minor Senate amendments to the 1 per cent realty transfer tax and the 6 per cent corporate net income levy, the remaining legislation in the GOP's $995-million tax package.

The Senate returns at 3 p.m. and the House at 4:30 p.m.

State Highways Supervisor Fired

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Highways Department today announced the dismissal of Joseph Abate, Slovan, Washington County maintenance superintendent because of "insubordination."

The department said the action was taken on the recommendation of District Engineer Norbert G. Bell, Uniontown. It was announced that Abate's insubordination occurred at "various times during his service and involved infractions of regulations regarding maintenance methods."

Leslie Brady, Washington, Pa., was named to succeed Abate in the post, effective April 1.

Coal Production Up

WASHINGTON (UP)—Soft coal production soared to 10,255,000 tons in the week ending March 2, compared with a 9,700,000 ton production of the previous week.

STRENGTHENING THEIR FAMILY TIES — When they remarried after the deaths of their first mates, Mr. and Mrs. William Delaney of Chicago adopted each other's children. Delaney had six children, his wife three. Delaney's father-in-law, attorney Harry Quinn, handled the legal end of the adoption. Family members are (from left, front row) Helen, 4; Dorothy, 6; William Delaney, 35, holding Robert 2; Donald, 6; Mrs. Jean Delaney, 35, and Mari Rita, 7. In back row are (from left) William, 10; Marian, 12; Richard, 8; Kathleen, 13, and Quinn.

Woman Denies Taking Part In Embezzlement

PITTSBURGH (UP)— The trial of Mrs. Betty Liotta, charged as an accessory in the embezzlement of $67,000 in school funds in Harrison Twp. was in weekend recess today after the defense had completed questioning of the 31-year-old defendant.

Poised and frequently smiling, Mrs. Liotta told of the operations in the tax office headed by Stephen C. Pastrick who faces trial later on embezzlement charges.

Three times Mrs. Liotta pronounced an emphatic "no" when defense attorney Robert Van der Voort asked pertinent questions about the shortage.

"You are charged with being an accessory to embezzlement of $67,000, Did you help Stephen Pastrick take any of the money?"

"No," replied the defendant.

"Did you give aid or comfort to Pastrick in connection with that embezzlement?"

"No." she said.

"Did you take any of it yourself?"

"No," she replied.

Mrs. Liotta, mother of 15-months-old twins, told how the collections in the tax office in a three-year period ending in 1953 were tossed into a cigar box and deposited in a Natrona bank. She said the remainder of the "cigar box" fund was placed in a white envelope and kept in Pastrick's real estate office safe overnight.

Queen of Festival

AVILES, Spain (UP) — Oranizers of the annual Fiesta Del Bollo (Festival of the Small Roll) announced today that Beatrice Lodge, daughter of U.S. ambassador to Spain John Davis Lodge, had agreed to be queen of this year's festival scheduled for April 20-22.

Long-delayed Macing Case Is Closer to Trial

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The long-delayed macing case against three former high Republican state officials moved closer to the courts today with the appointment of another prosecutor.

Allegheny County Dist. Atty. Ward C. Boyle named Sidney A. Sanes to handle the state's case, the third assistant district attorney to be given an assignment.

Two former assistants, Wendell G. Freeland and Ben. W. Hazeltine, Jr., the only Republicans on Boyle's staff, quit to run for office. Boyle had wanted a Republican to handle the prosecution of the key GOP figures but the supply ran out.

Co-defendants in the case are former state Insurance Commissioner Artemas C. Leslie; Frederick P. Hare, one-time administrative assistant to Gov. John S. Fine, and Frederick M. Campbell, former state Insurance Department investigator. George A. Nally, former comptroller of the state Revenue Department, also was scheduled to stand trial but the 71-year-old defendant was reported too ill to stand the ordeal.

Special Baptist Church Services End Tomorrow

The sixth annual Round Robin Missionary Conference for churches of the Conservative Baptist Association of the Greater Pittsburgh Area will concluded at the First Baptist Church tomorrow and in the eight other churches participating.

Missionary speakers will be presented at both the morning and evening worship services. Tomorrow at 10:45 a. m., the Rev. Russell Daubert, a prison chaplain, will speak.

At the 7:30 evening service the speaker will be Francella Woods, a missionary to Formosa.

There are no services planned in the local church tonight. A delegation of local young people will attend the Missionary Youth Rally at the Sandusky Street Baptist Church in Pittsburgh, at 7:30. The Rev. Floyd McElveen, missionary to Alaska, will be the speaker.

This series of services began last Monday with a dinner meeting and services have been held nightly.

Area Council PTA Meeting On Thursday

The Area Council of the Parent Teacher Association met Thursday evening at the Marion Junior High School with the Washington Township unit as the host group.

John Harsha, president, was in charge and led in the pledge of allegiance to open the session.

Roll call showed that seven units were represented, Lebanon, Belle Vernon, Monessen, Rostraver, Sutersville, Webster and Washington Township.

Presented as guest speaker was Dr. Daniel J. Carr, who reviewed the two amendments to the by-laws of the County Council in which the length of the term of office for the vice president and treasurer will be increased.

Dr. Carr also announced the spring meeting for the county council, which will be held at Hempfield High School on May 4. County officers will elected at that time.

The next Area Council meeting will be held in Sutersville in November.

and then it is up to the committee people and other leaders to help elect those candidates."

Stieska said he had complimented the committee for calling in all the candidates.

"So far as I know, this is the first time that was done," he said. "Usually they just endorse the machine candidates and let it go at that.

"I told them that I had the utmost respect for the members of the committee as thinking citizens and found it hard to believe they would ask candidates to come into a meeting which was already stacked by the Parente machine."

Rapsack said the committee has also endorsed the following Democrats for County offices: Edward G. Bauer and L. Alexander Sculco, judges of Common Pleas Court; Earl Keim, district attorney; Raymond Turner, clerk of courts; Alex Sukala, prothonotary; Dora Dunn, jury commissioner, and Stephen Yoney, coroner.

Question Unanswered

A COMMISSION appointed by Redstone Presbytery to investigate reported discord in the congregation of Rehoboth Presbyterian Church in Rostraver Township has submitted an interim report. It finds that the disharmony results from some lack of "discretion" and "tact" on the part of the Rehoboth pastor, the Rev. Nelson Jackaway, and from the inclination of some members of the congregation to be "too quick to criticize" the pastor.

The report is entirely silent on what, for the general public, had been the central aspect of the Rehoboth controversy. This was Mr. Jackaway's flat charge, made from the pulpit, that "pressure" was being exerted upon him from within the congregation as a result of his activities in behalf of "Operation: Crusade", an organization of ministers which has been fighting rackets and political corruption, chiefly in Westmoreland County. Mr. Jackaway currently is chairman of the organization.

In omitting any mention of this issue, the report leaves the public wondering whether the commission considered it at all and, if so, what conclusion it reached.

Church quarrels are fairly common in all denominations and therefore have limited interest for those not directly concerned. And certainly nobody in this vicinity could wish for the venerable Rehoboth Church anything but the "peace and purity" which is the goal of all churches.

But a very serious question is left dangling in the air: Was Mr. Jackaway right or wrong when he said publicly that corrupt elements were trying to strike him down because he stood for political decency?

We still believe the answer to that question is a matter for legitimate concern outside the membership of Rehoboth Church.

The AFL-CIO Acts

THE EXECUTIVE Council of the AFL-CIO has acted with commendable promptness to deal with the Dave Beck affair. The Council voted yesterday to suspend Mr. Beck as a member and to conduct an investigation to determine if his union, the Teamsters, is under the domination of corrupt influences.

When the Executive Council just a few weeks ago was considering the adoption of a code of ethical conduct for officers of affiliated unions, it is doubtful if the Council members dreamed that they would be called upon so soon to apply it to a labor leader so highly placed as Dave Beck. But we hope that knowledge would not have made any difference.

Mr. Beck, of course, opposed the portion of the code which states that union officers must cooperate fully with congressional investigations, waiving their constitutional rights under the Fifth Amendment if necessary. And it turns out that Mr. Beck had some excellent personal justification for the position he took.

But while the Teamster case undoubtedly has harmed the labor movement seriously, in the end it may prove a blessing. For it gives the leaders of the AFL-CIO an opportunity to demonstrate just how effective they can be in safeguarding the rights — and the money — of the men and women who pay dues to unions. Also it gives them a chance to show how much awareness exists, at the top level of the labor movement, of the stake which the American public as a whole has in a clean and responsible labor movement.

A stitch in time may save nine, 'tis said. Taking a stitch in Dave Beck does not promise to be an easy thing to do, but the AFL-CIO had better leave no doubt that it is trying.

Be Generous

CATHOLICS and most Protestants throughout the nation have an opportunity tomorrow to accomplish a vast amount of good. Members of both faiths are being asked to support separate appeals for overseas relief programs.

Catholics will make their contributions through the Bishops' Relief Fund, which is administered by the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

In the churches of the major Protestant denominations, worshippers will participate in the One Great Hour of Sharing, which is under the auspices of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States.

The money which goes to these causes will buy more sympathetic help per dollar than can be provided in any other way we know about. Generous contributions are in order.

British Bow To U. S. Lead In Mideast

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Mr. Dulles, having returned to Washington from Bermuda, was at pains to dispel any notion that there exists a British-American agreement on the line we shall take in the Middle East. As a matter of fact, nobody had any reason to suppose that there had been such an agreement. But the very fact that the President and the Prime Minister chose to meet at all in such a conspicuous way was bound to cause speculation, and in Egypt at least to arouse the suspicion that the two great powers, separated since last November, were now going to act together.

Mr. Lippmann

If, as we know from Mr. Dulles, there were no firm agreements, were there real disagreements? There were not, so it would seem, though there are undoubtedly wide differences of opinion as to what Nasser intends to do and how he should be dealt with.

Almost certainly what happened in Bermuda was that the British accepted American leadership in the making and in the conduct of policy in the Middle East. There was no agreement as to what the policy would be, though no doubt various possibilities must have been canvassed. But there was an assent by the British, never formalized in any agreement, that the President, and more specifically that Mr. Dulles, should manage the Middle Eastern business. It was in that role that Mr. Dulles spoke with such personal authority at his press conference on Tuesday.

The U. S. Role

As the President and Mr. Dulles appeared to see it, the American role in the Middle East is to be its protector as against the Soviet Union from the outside, and within the region itself to be the impartial mediator and the friend of everybody. In practice they have little or no hope of reaching genuine settlements within the area, be it about the canal, about the future of Jordan, or about the Egyptian-Israeli conflict. Our real policy in the Middle East is to speak boldly and loudly about what is unlikely to happen — namely an overt Soviet military aggression — and on the real issues to zig and to zag, and somehow to muddle through without any more shooting.

When Mr. Dulles spoke of feeling a "cautious optimism," he means presumably that there is a fair chance that for a while at least there will be tacit arrangements to keep the hot issues below the boiling point. We might guess that Nasser will have his way about the canal but that, except as to Israel, he will not actually molest or discriminate against other ships. We might guess that he will not build up serious military forces in the Sinai Peninsula which could threaten Israel, and that the raiding from the Gaza Strip will not be organized on a big scale. And there would seem to be a fair chance that neither Nasser nor King Saud will in fact interfere with the passage through the Gulf of Aqaba.

This is, conceivably, how a new crisis may be stalled off — by saving Nasser's face and by adding to his prestige without provoking Israel enough for her to use force.

The Choices

It can be argued that this is the best that can be made of a bad job. It can be said that the revolutionary movement among the Afro-Asian peoples which Nasser leads cannot be stopped by force or bought off by economic concessions; it can be said that the local conflict in Palestine is insoluble in this generation.

But it can be argued also that the best way to deal with the situation is not to muddle through, not to carry water on both shoulders, not to finagle and to finesse, with the object of provoking no one and of placating everyone. For if, as is now contemplated, we in fact appease Nasser both of the canal and on his claim to belligerent rights against Israel, we shall find ourselves much weaker when we come to the next phase of Nasser's revolution against the Western world.

Merry-Go-Round—

Khrushchev Kin in U. S.

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — U. S. officials were greatly interested to learn that Soviet dictator Khrushchev's son-in-law, Alexander Startsev, walked unannounced into the offices of the National Agricultural Workers Union in Washington, D.C., the other day and started asking questions about American farm workers.

Mr. Pearson

Startsev, whose official title is First Secretary of the Soviet Embassy, was accompanied by another Russian diplomat identified as Victor Komplektov. They explained casually that they represented "one of the embassies in Washington."

When NAWU President H. L. Mitchell asked which one, Startsev hesitated, then replied: "The Soviet Embassy."

They explained that they would like to know about the problems of agricultural workers. Mitchell gave them some background on his small union which was started by southern sharecroppers in 1934.

"What," asked Komplektov, "is the composition of agricultural workers?"

Asks About Unionization

"What do you mean by composition?" asked Mitchell.

"He means race or nationalities," explained Startsev.

Mitchell said most agricultural workers were Negroes in the South and Mexicans in the Southwest. The dictator's son-in-law then wanted to know about the membership requirements. Mitchell explained that any farm worker 16 years old or over could join the union.

Startsev asked about the number of members and was told only 50,000 of the nation's 2,000,000 farm workers are organized.

"Why are they not in unions?" asked the Russian

Mitchell explained that the workers were scattered and were not covered by protective legislation. That was one reason, he said, that union headquarters were located in Washington rather than in a more rural part of the USA.

The two Russians asked a few more routine questions, accepted some union literature and started to leave. Mitchell inquired, as they started out the door, whether they were agricultural specialists.

"No," replied Startsev, who spoke fluent English. "We are interested in all agricultural problems."

Mitchell reported the visit to the State Department which was at a loss to explain it.

NOTE — Since Khrushchev took charge of the Kremlin, he has personally dealt with Russian agricultural problems, has demanded more crop production, and approved the exchange of Russian and American farmers in 1955. His son-in-law in Washington has the reputation of being a studious, hard-working diplomat. American officials who have negotiated with him say he's a straightforward, tough negotiator.

Bankers Lobby Operates

While the Senate Rackets Committee was getting the headlines, White House pressure was being put on congressional leaders regarding an investigation into something far more fundamental — the cost of living, tight money, and the extent of inflation.

The President has publicly asked for authority to appoint a committee of bankers, finance experts et al, to investigate the tight money policy. But one day after he returned from Bermuda, he was informed of a roadblock erected by one of the most respected men on Capitol Hill — Congressman Wright Patman of Texarkana, Texas. Patman proposed that Congress conduct its own tight money probe, argued that an investigation dominated by bankers would only endorse the tight money policies already adopted by the banks.

President Eisenhower, on his return from Bermuda, got this bad news from GOP congressional leaders at a closed-door White House session.

"We are about 30 votes short of a majority in the House," reported GOP leader Joe Martin of Massachusetts. Martin and assistant leader Charles Halleck of Indiana explained that Speaker Sam Rayburn had "lined up" the Democrats solidly behind the planned probe by Wright Patman.

Ike launched some caustic criticism of the Patman probe as a "political" scheme to embarrass the administration. His own plan to appoint a bipartisan commission to study fiscal policies, he contended, was a more objective and judicial approach.

Banking Probe Is Dead

Joe Martin, however, reckoned without the bankers' lobby. He did not know that banking friends of the administration were at that very moment putting the heat on Congress. Long-disance phone calls had gone out to bankers in southern cities nearest Washington to come to Washington immediately and switch Democratic votes.

As a result, bankers from North and South Carolina, Virginia, Georgia and Tennessee were flocking through the halls of Congress even during the White House conference, calling congressmen off the floor, telling them to vote against the Patman probe.

The bankers' lobby was successful. Thirty-eight Democrats, largely from the South, deserted Speaker Rayburn to vote with the White House against a congressional probe of high interest rates.

This means there will be no investigation of tight money at all. For Democratic leaders are so irked at the high-pressure tactics of the bankers' lobby they will never put through the bankers investigation proposed by Ike.

Education Best as Hand-craft Process

By HARRY R. PORE, Jr.

In recent years there has been a growing concern in the United States about our educational system. More and more people have become aware of its deficiencies and sympathetic with ideas for correcting them.

Until fairly lately, however, this concern has seemed to me to be applied more to the quantitative aspects of our educational needs and perhaps not enough to the qualitative aspects.

We have become quite worked up, for example, about the shortage of modern school buildings, and Congress again is seriously considering a plan to provide federal funds to the states to help them speed up the construction of new classrooms.

We have been concerned, too, about the shortage of teachers because it won't be much help to have the finest possible classroom and no teacher to preside over it.

As a corrollary to this concern, we have been troubled about the imbalance between teachers salaries and the remuneration of other occupations, including some which require little or no formal education. This is for the very good reason that you aren't likely to get enough teachers if young people can do measurably better for themselves financially in other fields.

Quality Needed, too

These are mainly quantitative considerations. But while they are obviously important and deserving of attention, we ought at the same time to be trying to correct the qualitative deficiences, some of which are almost as obvious.

Besides providing a child with a proper school to attend, we have to be sure that he learns something when he goes into it. And this means having, not just enough teachers, but enough good teachers.

I suspect Swinda Waldman, the Austrian girl who is spending this year as an exchange student in Monessen High School, was not far off the mark when she observed in a talk before the Rotary Club the other day that American schools are too easy and that they don't put enough emphasis on teaching the pupil to think, to put his knowledge to work.

I confess I share Swinda's regard for the true-and-false test, which she thinks is "stupid". Except perhaps as a means of discovering whether a student has performed some memory assignment, I think the chief beneficiary of the true-and-false test must be the teacher, who is relieved of some labor.

But, of course, these criticisms are not original with either Swinda or me. "Why Johnny Can't Read" has been a common-topic of conversation for quite awhile.

The fault, I'm inclined to think, lies basically in our dedication to the theories and practices of mass production. We have gotten into trouble when we have applied these indiscriminately to education.

We began by saying that every boy and girl ought to go to school and learn to read and write, and that worked so well that we went on to assume that every boy and girl ought to go to high school. That isn't working quite so well.

One of Monessen's most competent teachers confessed to me not long ago that she is not doing a proper job of preparing those of her students who are going on to college. She pointed out that in a class of about 40 pupils, of whom perhaps no more than ten are interested in or qualified for training beyond high school, she simply cannot give these ten the attention they should have.

What happens, then, is that the quality of education is diluted for the people to whom we must look for the future leadership of our communities and of the nation.

If you think this is an idle fear, consider what is taking place at the law school of the University of Miami in Florida. That school discovered that it was trying to make lawyers out of students who didn't know how to express themselves in the English language — or even spell the words they would have to use.

To Give Tests

So the law school has called upon the staff of the English department to give incoming students basic tests to determine their competence for graduate study. And those students who can't pass the tests will take less law until they know more English.

This strikes me as a scandal, but I'm afraid it is fairly typical. And just whom are we kidding when we send half-educated men and women out to practice law and administer justice?

I'm all for mass education, and I think we should continually strive for a system which will give every young person all the educational opportunity his abilities will let him put to good use.

But I hope we understand that there is more to the process than having the child spend a fixed number of days each year in a school building, no matter how modern it is or how much the teacher at the desk is being paid. We have found ways to make very serviceable automobiles and refrigerators come off the ends of our assembly lines. But I believe adequate citizens — and particularly leaders — are still going to have to be hand-crafted to a considerable extent.

Varied Birdlife Seen On Weekend Stroll

By JOHN H. DAY

The weekend came up with a gorgeous dawning. When I stepped outdoors the sun was burning off the morning haze and songsparrows were broadcasting the fact. Somewhere nearby I could hear a meadowlark calling. "Emily dear!" From across the next field Emily replied "Way over here." Down in the valley behind the house a boisterous entourage of red-winged blackbirds greeted the new day with social cheer and jubilee. The white birch in the door yard dripped chill tears as the heavy mist fled from the searching sun.

An hour later I stepped out of the car at a country gateway which guards the entrance to a wooded hillside edging a large impounding reservoir. A chewink sat high in an oak and sang his heart out. Along the way I had heard the monotonous music of the phoebe, and had seen a lustrous purple grackle out for a morning stroll in a field beside the road.

The elms and the maples have voted to wait no longer. Both are in full flower, adding a beauty to the countryside that is characteristic of the time of the vernal equinox. The scarlet blooms of the maple are the more showy, blushing rosily against the somber background of the timbered hills. The bees play no favorites, and seem to find plenty of attraction in these early bloomers.

Champ Drummer

As I stopped to pick a spray of maple bloom and admire the swelling buds on a small dogwood tree, a pileated woodpecker drummed out a rolling tattoo from a treetop xylophone somewhere on the hill above. There's no mistaking his heavy hand on the drum. The flicker and the downy and the rest of the smaller fry can turn in a creditable performance, but when the big log cock hammers out his springtime roundelay you know the champ himself is on stage.

I'm either getting better with the crow call, or the ebon fellows are so bemused with affairs of the heart that they have lost their cunning. A big black freebooter was prospecting some sod ground as I moved back along the hill. In a tree near by was his pal, scolding loudly a little beagle having himself a solo hunt through the thickets. Neither of the birds saw me, although I was hardly 40 yards distant.

I unlimbered the crow call and blew some fighting talk into my cupped hands. In almost comical umbrage those fellows came over to join the battle. Round and round above me they flew, just over the treetops, cursing with all the venom of the rough crow lingo, while I cursed back with what I fondly imagined was fluent corvine gutter language. For almost five minutes we had a regular melee.

The sweetest music this side of heaven again echoes through the trees. In the spring dawnings when the chickadee's fancy turns to thoughts of love he expresses his ecstasy in a poignant little two-tone serenade that to my mind is the tenderest love song of the timberlands. There is something at once sad and sweet and haunting in this refrain. The true countryman finds the wayside utterly delightful when a misting spring rain moves across the hills and the chickadee pours out his heart in the thicket.

Frogs stage contest

In a cattail slough at the head of the dam the wood frogs were holding their annual croaking contest. I loafed for awhile in the sun as these brown fellows clucked explosively. The clouds passing over the sun had a definite stop and go effect on their singing. In full sunlight the bedlam was deafening, but when a cloud darkened the marsh only a few brave souls persisted in showing off their vocal attainments.

By means of a bottle tied to a bit of rope I had lassoed the end of a branch over the water, to salvage a fisherman's bobber hanging there, when a great blue heron flew out of the brush edging the far bank and flapped solemnly along to a safer landing farther down the dam. In the glass he was quite a picture in the sunlight, riding sedately along with his head folded back on his shoulders and his long legs trailing out behind.

ON THE BALL

By ALLEN KLINE

Chester's Success Is No Accident

It's no accident that Chester High will appear in the title basketball game tonight for the third time in the past four seasons. Clipper coach Bob Forward has instituted an ambitious basketball program in the eastern community. In November and December, he promotes clinics at six grammar schools and two junior highs in Chester. He and his staff keep a watchful eye on the progress of Chester youngsters from the age of ten on. During the season, Forward has two scouts mapping the patterns of all future Clipper foes . . . Significantly, the current Chester team doesn't include a single regular from last year's fine club. All of the 1955-56 players graduated, but there were talented boys ready to take their places.

* * *

Myron Pottios and Bill Pentz, Charleroi High's fine footballers, are still making weekend trips to colleges throughout the country. They want to see them all before making a decision . . . Frank Wydo, former Pittsburgh Steeler and Philadelphia Eagle footballer, wants the Democratic nomination for tax collector in German Twp. . . . Hempfield High, the newest double-A school in Westmoreland County, already has a complete varsity sports program which includes golf and track as well as football and basketball. Planned for next season are tennis and baseball.

* * *

Different Story in Indiana

Few television viewers hereabouts will be able to look in on tonight's Chester-Sharon basketball game from the Palestra in Philadelphia. The closest channel carrying the tussle is Altoona . . . That situation is in sharp contrast to last week's Indiana schoolboy title tussle in Indianapolis. No less than 58 radio and television stations — practically every one in the state — carried the attraction. Despite that blanket coverage, a sellout crowd of 15,300 was on hand to witness the fun . . . In McKeesport, the Senior Class raised almost $900 to send their basketballers to tonight's tussle as their guests.

* * *

Charleroi isn't the only Mon Valley League baseball team "loading up" for the approaching season. Donora is also beating the bushes for talent. Already in the fold are Ray Glaser and Paul Lazzari, standout members at Finleyville last season. Also scheduled to wear Donora togs is hometowner Kenny Barbao, who has given up his pitching bid in the Pirate farm system . . . As you might have guessed, Finleyville figures to yield its Mon Valley franchise. The down-river club is without a suitable playing field. The former site was badly damaged by a flash flood late last summer.

About W. Virginia Team in Tourney

That West Virginia team which appeared in the recent Ozark Basketball Tournament was comprised of standout players from high schools in Fairview and Blacksville . . . Bill Whiteko, a Brownsville baseball product, is with the Philadelphia farmhands at Bennettsville, S. C. He expects to be assigned to the High Point, N. C. team in the Class B Carolina League . . . There's a rumor linking Irwin coach Lyman Stough to the Greensburg High basketball vacancy . . . In Bellmar, certain school directors want to revamp the entire basketball program. The idea is to improve the Canes by the time they move into their proposed new gym.

Fountain Hill Raps Shannock, 72 to 64

By UNITED PRESS

Fountain Hill outclassed Shannock Valley, 72-64, Friday night to retain state championship honors in the PIAA Class B basketball. Fleetwood came from behind to notch a 64-63 victory over Williamsburg for the state PIAA Class C crown.

Dick Kosman pumped in 23 points and Karol Strelecki dominated the boards in leading Fountain Hill to a repeat title. The Tigers broke a 15-all deadlock in the opening of the second quarter to post a lead they never relinquished.

Dick Peters sank four points in the final minutes and 42 seconds to give Fleetwood the C title. Williamsburg, which lost out in the C finals last year to Jenkintown, played all but the last four minutes of the 1957 finale without its leading scorer, Jack Campbell, ailing with a wrenched knee.

About 3,500 fans jammed the Westminster College Memorial Fieldhouse at New Wilmington to watch classy Fountain Hill win its 26th straight game and its second-in-a-row B crown.

Double Threat

The Tigers' double threat of Kosman and Strelecki proved too much for Shannock Valley. Kosman hit on eight field goals and seven fouls and 6-5 center Strelecki swept the backboards for 15 points.

Fountain Hill, after a first period marked by four deadlocks, took command in the second quarter. The Tigers were ahead 34-29 at the half and splurged to a 52-41 lead in the third period.

With three minutes remaining in the game, Fountain Hill had a 67-50 bulge but then the Spartans whittled the lead to eight-points as the final whistle sounded.

Jim Franceschi scored 20 points to pace the losers. Leo Haky was second for the Spartans with 19.

Take Charge

Fleetwood trailed for three quarters before taking charge at the Reading court. Williamsburg had a 34-26 lead at the midway point and was still on top, 51-47, at the close of the third period.

Tom Lenhart put Fleetwood ahead for the first time with less than seven minutes to play on a push shot. Later he added two free throws to make it 60-55. Two corner shots by Campbell, who missed the first 28 minutes of the game because of a knee injury suffered in a morning workout, narrowed the Fleetwood lead to 60-59 with 1:42 to go.

Peters then tossed in his four free throws to offset field goals by Elvin Lower and Kenny Flaig to preserve the victory.

Fleetwood's 6-2 center Arlan Burket led the scoring with 20 points and his teammate Lenhart had 14. Flaig paced Williamsburg with 18 tallies, Lower had 12.

Gridders Are Really Smugglers

MANILA (UP)— Members of the Formosa Chamber of Commerce football team were found carrying a big shipment of fancy jewelry in an apparent smuggling attempt, it was reported today.

The Philippines News Service said customs officials found the gems, valued at "thousands of dollars," hidden in three baskets as the team prepared to leave for Taipei after playing some games here. Members of the team disclaimed knowledge of the jewelry.

Tracys, Donora Win Ozark Cage Titles

Sharon vs. Chester Tonight

Meet in Philly for Cage Title

By RUSS GREEN

PHILADELPHIA (UP) —Twice-thwarted Chester meets short but steady Sharon at the Palestra tonight in an annual east-west tussle to determine the state Class A PIAA basketball champion.

The 38th renewal of the playoff between the eastern and western regional kingpins is saturated with drama.

It will mark fast, balanced Chester's third bid in four seasons for its first state crown, and will point up the return of Bill (Bud) Laycock as Sharon coach to the court where he co-captained a title-winning Sharon team 27 years ago.

In addition, Sharon is striving to extend a winning streak of 29 games over the past two seasons, 27 of them this year. But the Chester Clippers of coach Bob Forwood are tested giant killers. They snapped Reading's 20-game skein to enter the final round.

Pre-Game Edge

Chester appears to have a pre-game edge on the strength of the rebounding ability of Lou Wade and Billy Wilson, its overall speed and an advantage in height. Wilson is an adept sharpshooter also, his 25 points pacing the Clippers to the victory over Reading. He made 15 of the tallies in 17 shots from the foul line.

The chances of the opposing Bengals are wrapped up in Mark (The Squirt) DuMars, all-state forward. The dynamic, five-foot, 10-inch senior is Sharon's playmaker and leading scorer with 396 points. Another prolific point producer is John Fridley, tallest man on the squad at 6-5, who has dropped in 354 tallies. Pete Culp sanks as a worthy ball handler.

Stamina, Courage

Stamina and courage have accented Sharon's drive into the state playoff. The Bengals defeated defending champion Farrell in sectional play and then continued on an unbeaten path through increasingly-tough opposition.

Chester, which relies on a fast break in its style of play, has a 26-2 record this season and 102-8 for the past four years. On defense, Chester uses man-for-man, while Sharon probably will use a sliding zone.

East, West Tilt To Be Screened On TV Today

NEW YORK (UP)— A country-wide television audience probably will see the National Basketball Association's No. 1 draft selection in action today when Charley Tyra of Louisville leads the East against Southern Methodist's Jim Krebs and other West stars in a charity game.

The Madison Square Garden contest, which annually helps the New York Herald Tribune send about 12,000 tenement kids to summer camps, will be televised by CBS at 2:30 p.m., EST.

The East, a four-point favorite, has the bulk of the season's most publicized college talent. It has All-America Lennie Rosenbluth of North Carolina's undefeated NCAA champions. It has Grady Wallace, the South Carolina All-America who won the major college scoring title with a 31-point average. It has Ken Hammond of West Virginia Tech, who led all collegians with a 34.9-point average.

But TV fans would be wise to keep a sharp watch on Tyra and Krebs, two 6-8 huskies who tote far less press notices than Rosenbluth and Wallace. Scouts for the NBA clubs will be at the game to watch the cream of the senior college basketball crop in action.

Celtics Take on St. Louis Today

BOSTON (UP)—The Boston Celtics opened their final drive for their first National Basketball Association championship today, meeting the fired-up St. Louis Hawks in a nationally televised game at the Garden.

The classy Boston team, paced by playmaker Bob Cousy, rookies Tom Heinsohn and Bill Russell and sharpshooters Bill Sharman and Dick Hemric, were an eight-point favorite among the local oddsmakers.

But the last-minute return to full strength of St. Louis ace Bob Pettit could make bums of the bookmakers. Pettit was hampered through the semi-final playoff with a broken wrist but removed the cast Friday and was reported physically fit.

The tap-off was set for 2:30 p.m. in the first game of the best of seven series.

Pat Minyon Named Tournament Queen

Pat Minyon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Minyon of Rostraver Township, was named queen of the sixth annual Ozark Basketball Tournament last night.

She was selected from a field of seven contestants representing Mon Valley communities.

Pat Minyon

Pat stands 5-5 and weighs 122 pounds. She has brown hair and brown eyes.

Pretty Miss Minyon won out in close balloting, according to the committee of judges. She received a gold wrist watch as her major prize.

The other queen contestants included Beverly Robinson, of California; Dolly Sicchitano, Bentleyville; Carol Jydak, Monessen; Delia Diaz, Donora; Cherie Nogy, Belle Vernon and Linda Rogers, Charleroi.

Miss Jydak was unable to attend last night's final judging because of illness.

All Won Prizes

All of the girls who took part won prizes.

The contest was judged by Mrs. John Hurley, Society Editor of the Daily Independent, Frank Buscanics, Charleroi sportscaster and James Bonafed, of the LaRose Beauty Salon.

The girls were introduced to the large tournament crowd last night at the Monessen High gym. They drew loud applause.

The sponsoring Ozarks were so pleased by the results of the queen contest that they've decided to make it an annual affair.

The girls were judged on beauty, charm and personality.

Dupas Banned As 'Negro' from Louisiana Rings

NEW ORLEANS (UP) — The Louisiana Boxing Commission may let itself in for a libel suit or criminal action for violating the state's segregation law Tuesday night when it presumably will try to prove Ralph Dupas, the nation's sixth ranking lightweight boxer, is a Negro.

Dupas' boxing career in Louisiana was put in jeopardy Friday when the commission moved to cancel his April 8 bout here with Vince Martinez of Paterson, N.J., and attempted to show that Dupas is a Negro.

Louisiana law forbids racially mixed athletic events. If the commission declares Dupas a Negro, it may have to show proof in a libel suit. Dupas claims he is white. He fought two white fighters in New Orleans in the last 60 days. He has been accepted as a white person since he lived in New Orleans and attended white segregated public schools.

On the other hand, if the commission sanctions the fight now, it might face criminal action for violating the segregation law.

A hearing has been set for Tuesday to determine whether an injunction filed by promoter Heard Ragas will go into effect. It seeks to prevent the commission from holding further meetings concerning Dupas' racial origin. The court's decision on the injunction is expected to be handed down before the commission's meeting.

Belle Vernon in Valley Sweep

Belle Vernon Musical Society swept over Uniontown in Mon Valley Duckpin League bowling last night.

The winners rolled a neat 2616 total with all five starters going over the 500 mark. W. Titler was high with 189-540, while J. Kuhn followed with 214-533.

FIGHT RESULTS

NEW YORK — Isaac Logart, 147, Camaguey, Cuba, outpointed Gil Turner, 148¾, Philadelphia. (10).

Logart Scores Unanimous Win Over Gil Turner

NEW YORK (UP) — Welterweight contender Isaac Logart, who licked Gil Turner again Friday night, accepted a "rubber match" with Mexican Gaspar Ortega today — reluctantly and conditionally.

Cuban Logart insisted that his unanimous decision over Philadelphia's Turner in their return TV bout at Madison Square Garden had earned him a title shot with champion Carmen Basilio.

"It was Ike's 12th win in his last 13 fights," explained Manager Eddie Mafuz, "and we're offering Basilio a guarantee of $50,000 for a defense; but matchmaker Billy Brown says Basilio isn't available. So, we'll accept a third match with Ortega — with the understanding that the winner gets the Basilio shot."

In the two Ortega-Logart bouts last year, each won a decision. Ortega is now ranked second among welter contenders; Logart, third.

Logart, 23, weighed 147 to Turner's 148¾ for Friday night's interesting 10-rounder. The Cuban's solid left hooks at close quarters were largely responsible for his 6-3-1, 6-3-1, 6-4 victory over 26-year-old Turner.

Close Scores in Hearth Bowling

All matches in the Ladies Open Hearth League ended in two-to-one decisions last night.

Hearts topped the Clubs, Spades won a pair from the Jokers and Diamonds bested the Trumps twice.

Scoring leaders were Irene Baron, 144-386; Minnie Koltash, 184-397; Marge Opalinsky, 154-429; Helen Zdilla, 145-371; Carrie Palm, 155-405; and Rosemary Popp, 138-388.

Standings show the Trumps, 25-17; Jokers, 24-18; Diamonds, 22-20; Clubs, 19-23; Hearts, 19-23; and Spades, 17-25.

O'Crats Win Two In Ladies Bowling

O'Crats took two games from the Dems in Democratic Ladies League bowling last night.

Scoring leaders included Rose Grillo, 124-346; and Patti Whitlach, 107-281.

Standings show the Dems, 16-14; and O'Crats, 14-16.

Frank, Gordon Named MVP

Al Frank, of Donora Last Chance, and James (Beanie Gordon, of the Monessen Links, were named last night as most valuable players in their respective divisions of the Ozark Basketball Tournament.

Frank, who rewrote all of the scoring records at Carnegie Tech, paced Donora to the senior division title. His selection was practically automatic.

Gordon, an all-state cager from Washington High, barely beat out a couple of other boys in the junior division balloting. His all-around play, though, made him the class of the tourney.

Rain Washes out School Baseball Schedule Again

Rain wiped out the entire schoolboy exhibition baseball card again yesterday.

However district nines have high hopes of getting the 1957 exhibition season underway next Monday. No less than four games are on tap.

South Huntingdon will appear at Bellmar (Fayette City); Charleroi wil play host to Clairton, Donora will go to McKeesport and Monongahela will travel to West Beth.

Monessen, rained out in two games the past week, plans to start on either Tuesday or Wednesday against McKeesport. The Greyhounds also have a game with West Newton next Thursday.

The Section 17 campaign will begin a week from Monday. Thus valley teams have only another week of practice before getting down to serious business.

Here's the revised exhibition card:

SCHOLASTIC

Monday

Clairton at Charleroi
Donora at McKeesport

Pirates Homer Way to Win

FT. MYERS, Fla. (UP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates confidently take on the Chicago White Sox today on their home spring quarter grounds.

Buc strongmen hit three home runs Friday to pace the pirates to a 6-5 victory over the Detroit Tigers. The blows came from Hank Foiles, Dale Long and Lee Walls.

Long and Walls sandwiched their circuit clouts in the eighth around a single by Frank Thomas to erase a two run, 5-3 deficit and put the Bucs ahead for good.

Gonzalo Naranjo, who entered the game as a pinchhitter, took the credit for the Pirate victory. He held the Tigers to one run in the last five innings.

Pirate starter Bob Garber gave up four Tiger runs on three home runs and four singles.

Tracys Top Links By 36-35; Donora Routs Washington

Donora Last Chance and the Monessen Tracys reigned today as champions of the sixth annual Ozark Basketball Tournament.

Donora copped the senior division title last night by easily rolling over the Washington Intervals, 92-71, at the MHS gym.

The defending champion Tracys had a much tougher time taking the Monessen Links, 36-35, in a junior match which required an overtime to decide.

A big crowd looked on as the Tracys and Links staged a thrill-packed tussle in which never more than a few points separated the two teams.

The Tracys led most of the first half, taking a 19-14 edge to the dressing room. However the Links came back strong in the third period to edge ahead, 26-25.

Spine-Tingling

The final period was absolutely spine-tingling with the two teams trading baskets. With four minutes to play, the score was 30-29 in favor of the Links. That prompted the Links to begin a freeze. At the ten second mark, Beame Gordon added a foul.

Then with eight seconds to go, the Tracys Bob Boda calmly hit on a pair of fouls to force an overtime.

In the extra session, the Tracys were not to be denied, stepping off to a 36-31 lead. Ollie Payne tried to keep his side in the contest by field-goaling with just five seconds remaining to draw within a point. However there wasn't enough time to scare the Tracys further.

Dan Testy, a Charleroi product, led the winners with 11 points. Boda, another Cougar star, and Ron Gray, ex of Bellmar, each contributed eight points for the Tracys.

Paces Links

Payne led the Links with 12 points. Gordon followed with ten.

Donora piled up scoring advantages in every period to defeat Washington.

John Mesher led the new champs with 19 points. Al Frank and Charles Goetz, a pair of Carnegie standouts, followed with 18 points apiece.

For Washington, Gordon—a tireless performer in the tournament — finished with 26 points. Bob Lazor, the Pitt player, contributed 18.

Lineups for the two title games follow:

Sportsmen May Back Higher Fee

HARRISBURG (UP)—The Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs today considered recommendations for a $4 resident fishing license fee and changes in the game seasons.

The federation's steering committee proposed that the $1.50 increase over the present fish license fee be set aside for "acquisition, development and management of public fishing areas."

The state Game Commission was urged by the group to fix the hunting season on rabbit, quail and ring-neck pheasants from Oct. 26 to Nov. 30, an increase of a week over the 1956 season, and retention of the five week season on turkey, grouse and squirrel from Oct. 19 to Nov. 23.

Midget League to Meet Tomorrow

A special meeting of all directors and coaches of the Monessen Midget Football League has been called for tomorrow at 6 p. m. in the Ravens Club.

Secretary Harold Wilkins said that an important matter will be discussed. He urged all league officials to be present if at all possible.

As usual, the public is invited to sit in on the session, Wilkins said.

Robin Roberts Proves He Is Ready for Opening Assignment

By UNITED PRESS

Robin Roberts is ready for his eighth straight opening day assignment and a season that'll show whether he's still one of baseball's super stars.

The powerful right-hander demonstrated that Friday when he became the first Philadelphia Phillies' pitcher to go nine innings enroute to a 5-4 triumph over the Chicago White Sox.

Roberts held the White Sox to seven hits and was in trouble only in the fourth inning when two singles, a walk and Sherman Lollar's homer produced all their runs.

Warren Hacker, Birdie Tebbetts' No. 1 reclamation project, also went the distance Friday when he pitched the Cincinnati Redlegs to a 7-2 decision over the Washington Senators.

Braves Win Again

Milwaukee Braves made it seven wins in their last eight games when they beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-1. Joe Adcock walloped a homer and single to drive in four runs. Chet Nichols and Gene Conley combined to limit the Cardinals to only three safeties.

The New York Yankees squared their "Spring World Series" at two games each with a 4-3 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers. Yogi Berra and Bill Skowron each hit his first homer of the spring for the world champions while Duke Snider homered for the Dodgers.

Herb Score and Cal McLish pitched two-hit ball that enabled the Cleveland Indians to beat the Boston Red Sox, 7-1. Chico Carrasquel and Al Smith homered for the Indians and Ted Williams smashed a 400-footer off Score for his second round-tripper of the spring.

Giants Romp

The New York Giants cinched the Cactus League title when they beat the Baltimore Orioles, 4-2, to make their spring record 13-6.

Dale Long and Lee Walls connected for eighth-inning homers off Steve Gromek as the Pittsburgh Pirates rallied to beat the Detroit Tigers, 6-5.

Eddie Winceniak and Joe Macko hit homers as the Chicago Cubs scored an 8-2 victory over their Memphis farm hands and the Kansas City Athletics downed their Buffalo farm club, 6-3, in other games.

Principals Have Completed Big Six Constitution

Principals from Big Six schools have drafted a tentative constitution for the long-established football conference, it was learned today.

The "document" will now be submitted to the respective school boards for approval.

Although the Big Six Conference was organized back in 1925, it has never operated under a formal constitution.

Significantly, one of the current member schools — Redstone — did not take part in the preparation of the constitution. However it is believed that Redstone is included in the new plans just the same.

There is also speculation that Redstone did not bother with the finite merger with Brownsville matter because of an almost demise in the near future.

Principals who drafted the constitution included Henry Furio, Monessen; John Conte, Monongahela; Dr. Michael Herk, Donora; Edwin Luse, Charleroi; and Wade Whitlach, Brownsville.

Wilt Rewriting Kansas Records

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UP)— Wilt Chamberlain broke four of Clyde Lovellette's 19 individual school records during the 1956-57 season. In his sophomore campaign, Chamberlain set school records scoring in one game (52 points), season average (29.6 points), most field goals in one game (20), and rebounds in a season (510).

Sooners Take Lead in Wrestling

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Don Hodge and Gordon Roesler put the University of Oklahoma into first place today in the NCAA wrestling championships but the Sooners faced strong competition from Pittsburgh as the grapplers tangled in the semi-finals.

Oklahoma led in the team point standings with 23 points. Pitt had 18 but qualified five men for the semi-finals against Oklahoma's four. Iowa also still had four men in the competition. Oklahoma A & M and Penn State were tied for third with 13 each. Michigan, Iowa State and Iowa were next with 11 each.

Hodge, a 177-pounder, pinned three opponents in a total elapsed time of slightly more than seven minutes to dominate Friday's action. The Oklahoma star ran his consecutive victory streak to 44, of which the last 22 triumphs have been by falls.

Roesler, Oklahoma's heavyweight, scored two victories, pinning his first man and scoring a decision in his other bout.

Ed Peery, the defending champion at 123 pounds, led Pitt Friday with two easy decisions.

DeMarco Picked Over Boardman

BOSTON (UP)—Former welterweight king Tony DeMarco ruled a top-heavy favorite today to whip young lightweight Larry Boardman in their 10-round, 146-pound limit at the Garden tonight.

In fact, the betting was that the Boston strong boy would tag Boardman with the first knockout of his career by the fifth or sixth round. Prices generally ranged from 2-1 to 4-1 on the converted southpaw who held the welter title for exactly 69 days two years ago.

DeMarco was expected to pare down easily to 146 by the weighing-in ceremonies, though there was some conjecture whether his strength might be slightly diminished. Boardman, the Marlboro, Conn., lad who looked like a real "comer" last year before being stopped by Orlando Zulueta, figured to weigh 143½.

Si Green Picked as Top Service Cager

Si Green

NEW YORK (UP)— Si Green, former Duquesne University and Rochester Royals basketball star, today was named the top player on the 1957 Armed Forces All-Star team.

Green, a two-time All-America at Duquesne, led the Fort Dix (N.J.) Burros to a 39-0 record. This achievement helped him to edge Tom Gola in a world-wide poll of armed forces sports writers and basketball coaches.

Gola, a three-time All-America at LaSalle and a member of the Philadelphia Warriors during the 1955-56 campaign, also was chosen on the armed forces first team with Green. The other three men chosen were Jesse Arnelle (Penn State), K.C. Jones (San Francisco and Boston Celtics), and Al Ferrari (Michigan State and St. Louis Hawks).

Gola is stationed at Fort Monmouth, (N.J.); Jones at Ft. Leonard Wood (Mo.), Ferrari at Ft. Dix and Arnelle at Mitchell Field (N.Y.).

The second team was made up of: Dick Boushka (St. Louis and Kirkland, N.M., Air Force Base); Julius McCoy (Michigan State and Ft. Knox, Knox, Ky.); Ralph Beard, (Kentucky and Camp Zama, Japan); Bob Kessler (Maryland and Pensacola, Fla., Naval Air Station); and Darrell Lloyd (Furman and Ft. Jackson, S. C.).

Detroit Has High Hopes This Year

By LEO H. PETERSEN

LAKELAND, Fla. (UP) — The Detroit Tigers thus far this spring haven't lived up to their advance billing as the most improved team in the American League. But their freshman manager, Jack Tighe, isn't worried.

"I've gone all out to win, but I've been experimenting a lot," Tighe explains. "Now I'm ready to go with a set lineup and the team should start to roll."

The 1956 Tigers never did get going until after the All - Star Game. From that point they played the best percentage ball in the league and went on to become the only club to beat the pennant-winning Yankees in a season's series. But they still finished fifth — 15 games out of first place.

Tighe said that barring injuries or other unforeseen developments, he will start the season with Ray Boone at first, Frank Bolling at second, Harvey Kuenn at short and Jim Finegan at third; Charley Maxwell in left, Bill Tuttle in center and Al Kaline in right.

More Than Satisfied

Boone's conversion into a first baseman has more than satisfied the plain - speaking Tighe and the success of the experiment means that he will have to let go one of two veterans — Ed Robinson or Earl Torgeson.

Bolling won the second base job "because of his hitting." That means that Jack Dittmar, the ex-Brave, will be in reserve at that spot.

Reno Bertoia, with his two bonus seasons behind him, also will stay with the club as a replacement for Finigan. If both should falter at third, Tighe always can move Boone back there. Just in case that becomes necessary, he probably will keep the veteran Jack Phillips in a utility role.

Behind his starting outfield trio he will have Jim Small, a bonus player, who hit .319 in 58 games with the Tigers last season and either J. W. Porter or Mel Clark, the ex-Phillie.

Share Catching Duties

Frank House and Red Wilson will share the catching burden. Rookie Charles Lau, up from Charleston where he hit .258, probably will be sent down to the minors for another year unless the Indians or Orioles are successful in their attempts to get House.

Frank Lary, (21-13); Billy Hoeft (20-14), and Paul Foytack (15-13) will anchor the pitching staff.

Three youngsters are leading the parade for the fourth regular pitching spot — Jim Bunting, who won five while losing one when the Tigers called him up late last season from Charleston; Duane Maas, whom Tighe believes is much improved over his 0-7 record with Detroit last year; and rookie Don Lee, the son of the ex-White Sox and Indian hurler, Thornton Lee.

Tighe is especially high on Lee. Whichever two of the three do not make the starting rotation will be in the bullpen. Steve Gromek will be a spot starter and reliever while the other hurlers will be Al Aber, John Crimian, Harold Woodschick, a 12-game winner with Charleston; and Jim Brady, a bonus player whom the Tigers have to keep until June.

Pittsburgh Wallhide Rubberized Satin Finish Beautifies Walls

If you want to really beautify the walls of your home, then go to Derby's Construction & Supply, 443 Donner avenue, home of Pittsburgh paints, and find out more about Pittsburgh Wallhide Rubberized Satin Finish Wall paint. It is so easy to apply, washes again and again! It has rubberlike toughness and is economical!

An amazing, ready-to-use product scientifically formulated from the best of traditional raw materials and modern synthetics which give it properties never before obtainable — including rubber-like characteristics. Wallhide Rubberized Satin Finish provides new standards of performance and durability for interior wall finishes.

Recommended for interior surfaces. . . new or old plaster, old paint, wallpaper, primed wood or metal, cinder or concrete block, standing cement, brick, composition board.

Hundreds of exciting colors. 300 Modern Wallhide Rubberized Satin Finish colors are available in the Pittsburgh Maestro Colors System. Look at the attractive Maestro chip rack at your dealer's store for a wider range of color selection.

No primer required. Due to exceptional controlled penetration, Wallhide Rubberized Satin Finish acts as its own primer. Two coats will do a good job.

Uniform appearance. Produces a smooth velvet-like finish without apparent lap or brush marks. Even missed spots may be filled in without damaging the final appearance.

No offensive odor. Eat, relax, or sleep in a room that has been freshly decorated. Wallhide Rubberized Satin Finish has no objectionable or "painty" odor, either during or after application.

Fast drying. This revolutionary finish dries to touch in 20 minutes. Curtains and pictures may be hung and the room put back into use after 1 hour. A second coat may be applied in 4 hours. Won't chip or crack.

Excellent Durability. The modern chemicals used in Wallhide Rubberized Satin Finish make it extra tough and durable. Its elastic surface will not chip, crack, or rub off. No need to worry about children scuffing the walls.

Glides on with amazing ease. Anyone can do a satisfactory job in applying Wallhide Rubberized Satin Finish by brush, roller, or spray. No brush pull is noticeable. It Glides On!

Unusual coverage. Spread is far greater than for other types of wall paints. Two coats of Wallhide Rubberized Satin Finish are generally required. However, one coat may be adequate under some conditions, particularly when a roller is used.

Freedom from drip or run. The no-drip no-run characteristic of the Wallhide Rubberized Satin Finish permits easy application on ceilings and other overhead surfaces. No discomfort in paint running down the handle of the brush.

Trim Enamel. Use Satinhide Enamel for matching trim with Wallhide Rubberized Satin Finish. It is available in the same 16 ready mixed colors shown for Wallhide Satin Finish and in 300 colors from the Pittsburgh Maestro Colors System.

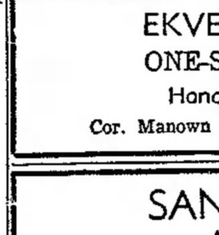
Handyman Dies Mowing Lawn

MIAMI (UP)— Authorities said today that a 70-year-old yardman was killed when a power mower plunged into the deep end of a home swimming pool.

Police said William Allen neither died from drownin or of a heart attack.

Allen was mowng a large lawn when the mower ran out of control. The mower jumped the side of the pool. Allen's body was found in eight feet of water, his hands still grasping the controls.

Police said a swath cut across the grass by the mower indicated it went out of control. There was also a report that the elderly man recently had been bothered by "blackouts."



John Says:

Nothing's so embarrassing as having to ask the customer how to open the hood—it's like telling him there weren't many fellas fool enough to buy that model.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

1 Death Notice

BURGAN — John William, 72, of Main street, Fayette City, died March 28, 1957, at 8:20 p. m. in the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Anna Burgan; his father, Simon Burgan, of Charleroi; two sons, Amos Behanna, of Perryopolis and Russell Burgan, of Uniontown; five daughters, Mrs. Frank (Anna) Grummer and Mrs. Oliver (Katherine) Pegg, both of Fayette City; Mrs. Alice Valko, of Torrance, Calif.; Mrs. Charles (Ellen) Oliphant, of Speers and Mrs. Jack (Ida) Wilson, of Monessen; three brothers, Andrew Burgan, of Venetia and Simon and Edgar, both of Washington, Pa. and a sister, Mrs. Bertha Lycett, of Finleyville. Twenty grandchildren and 25 great grandchildren also survive. Friends are being received at the McCrory Funeral Home, Fayette City, where funeral services will be held Monday, April 1, at 2 p. m. Rev. D. Earl Daniel, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Fayette City will officiate. Interment will be in Mt. Auburn Cemetery. George M. McCrory & Son, funeral directors.

3 Memorials

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Mary Klaweho, who died nine years ago today, March 30, 1948.
Gone into the light that shineth so fair,
Gone from this earth of sorrow and care,
Resting those hands that did their best,
Gone, dear mother, gone to rest.
What is a home without our mother?
What are all the joys we meet?
When your loving smile no longer
Greets the coming of our feet!
Dearest mother, how we miss you,
Since from earth you passed away,
And our hearts are aching sorely,
As we think of you today.
Sadly missed by Husband and Children

In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Assunta Marmo, who died 14 years ago tomorrow, March 31, 1943.
Today our hearts are heavy,
Our thoughts are all of thee.
Oh! How we miss you, mother, dear,
No one but God can see.
Some say time heals an aching heart,
But, no, it isn't true.
For fourteen long years have passed, dear mother
And our hearts still ache for you.
Sadly missed by Children and Grandchildren

In loving memory of our dear son, Howard P. Odbert, who died one year ago tomorrow, March 31, 1956.
The stars are dimly shining
Upon one lonely grave,
Where sleeps without awakening,
One we loved, but could not save.
Sadly missed by his parents

Builders Class Holds Meeting; To Buy Flowers

The Rehoboth Builders Class met Tuesday at Rehoboth Church.

Group singing of "We've story to Tell the Nations" opened the meeting. Eleanor McHugh, leader, chose "Jewels" as her topic.

Scripture readings were given by Ann Rechichar, Thelma Smock, Eleanor Heath and Helen Lee. Prayer was offered by Mary Leeper. Following a reading by Eleanor McHugh, the closing prayer was given by Betty Gess.

Business was in charge of Mabel Nichols, president. Reports were given by Mrs. Kuhn, secretary, and Eleanor Heath, treasurer. The class decided to purchase Easter flowers for the altar.

Two assistant secretaries, Thelma Smock and Helen Lee, were elected.

Hostesses were Grace Kuhn, Alice Smith and Margaret Greenawalt. Others present were Elsie Carter, Lena Watts and Elsie Gaffney.

Rostraver P. T. A. Will Have Monday Session

The regular monthly meeting of the Rostraver Parent-Teacher Association will be held Monday at Rostraver High School beginning at 7:30.

Dorothy Kline Banquet Head At Holy Cross

The Holy Cross Altar Society of Webster met Thursday with Mrs. Helen Little, president, in charge. Following prayer by Mrs. Little, reports were given by Ella Dolfi, secretary, and Elizabeth Grilli, treasurer.

Plans are being prepared for the annual mother-daughter banquet. Dorothy Kline will be in charge of the affair, assisted by Rina and Georgina Dolfi, Elizabeth Grilli, Elma Natali and Margaret Pollin.

The pig-in-the-poke donated by Rina Dolfi was won by Dorothy Kline.

The next meeting is set for April 25.

Band Parents to Purchase Pins

The Band Parents met Monday at the new Rostraver Township Junior High School with Alex Turda, president, in charge. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Glenn Boyd.

Women in the organization are selling black pepper as one of their projects to raise funds. The nominating committee was appointed and will submit a slate of candidates at the next meeting.

It was decided to purchase pins for the senior band members. The presentations will be made at the spring concert. Letters of appreciation were read from the band players who attended the recent All-Eastern festival under the sponsorship of the Band Parents.

The annual financial report will be presented to the School District.

Reservations have been made for a candy-selling booth at the annual Rostraver Fair.

Webster Services Tomorrow Night

The Webster Community Church Service will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at the Methodist Church.

The Rev. Ben Saint, of Irwin, will be guest speaker. He is the brother of the martyred missionary, Nate Saint, who gave his life in an effort to preach the Gospel to Auca Indians in Ecuador.

Tomorrow's guest speaker conducted a meeting which attracted 12,000 persons in the British West Indies. At present he is song leader of the Greater Pittsburgh Youth for Christ.

The public is invited.

Curious Calf Just Wanted to See Ike

WASHINGTON (UP)—A sight-seeing red and white calf tried to call on the President of the United States Friday.

She didn't make it.

But it took four police cruisers, eight motorcycle policemen and a paddy wagon complete with a happy drunk to stop her.

The carefree calf escaped from Gilbert Slaughterer, Inc., 11 blocks south of the Capitol. Causing only a raised eyebrow or two, she wandered past government workers, lobbyists and housewives to The Mall.

For awhile she gamboled and munched her way along the grass toward the Washington Monument.

Then a policeman in a cruiser spotted her. He called for help. The chase was on.

As the gendarmes closed in, the calf bolted for the city streets.

Four squad cars, eight motorcycle policemen and the paddy wagon joined the chase in a matter of minutes. Sirens shrieking, they raced up Pennsylvania Ave. behind her.

The policemen cursed. The calf bleated. The drunk shouted advice.

Occasionally, the calf would stop and the policemen would leap from their cars and motorcycles and try to surround her. But then she would bolt again and the chase would resume.

Police radioed for more help and the reinforcements gathered. When the calf reached the East Executive Ave. gates to the White House, they were waiting for her with a rope.

Police unloaded the drunk, put the calf in the paddy wagon and took her back to Gilbert's.

Today she is veal and calf's liver.

Wins $140,000, But not Before Anxious Moments

DETROIT (UP) — A 63-year-old Detroit man who won $140,000 in the Irish Sweepstakes said today it just about "finished" him when he learned he and his wife won the money and then couldn't find the ticket.

Maurice P. O'Connell, a janitor at Wayne State University's College of Medicine, said he has a bad heart.

The O'Connells finally found the ticket, but not before they had searched high and low and called on St. Anthony, the patron saint of lost articles, for help.

O'Connell said the search for the ticket "was awful" and the excitement was nearly too much for him. After The O'Connells prayed to St. Anthony, Mrs. O'Connell found the ticket on Sweepstakes winner Sundew in her Christmas Club savings book.

Church of Nazarene Meetings Continue

The series of meetings now in progress at the Church of the Nazarene will continue all next week, except Saturday. The Rev. Herman Taylor, preacher and singer, is conducting the meetings.

The Rev. Frederick Burchell, church pastor, announced today there will be a men's prayer meeting next Saturday at 6:30 p. m. at the church.

Janet Byers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Byers, of Detroit, Mich., is visiting with Ruth Evans, of Fellsburg. Miss Byers, former resident of R. D., Belle Vernon, is now a student at Eastern Nazarene College, Wollaston, Mass.

Your Health—

Menopause Ailments Temporary

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

It is estimated that only five per cent of the nation's women need medical help during the menopause. The others either have mild symptoms or none at all.

Many are not aware of the change until it is all over.

Yet it might make things a little easier if you can recognize some of the symptoms but do not worry about them.

As I have explained previously, the "traditional" hot flashes are not really traditional at all. Only 20 women out of every 100 experience them. And medical care will bring relief if it is necessary.

Other symptoms sometimes accompany this physiological change, although in themselves they do not necessarily indicate the menopause.

These include headaches, fatigue, inability to sleep, palpitation and pains in the back or other joints. Perhaps there will be a numbness in the fingers and toes, stomach disturbances and bladder difficulties.

Sometimes night sweats accompany the menopause. And a woman may also be irritable and depressed.

Most of these symptoms are only temporary. Again, they may not be connected with this period of change at all.

They do, however, signal that something is amiss. They are a warning to see your doctor. Medical help is available, even for persons experiencing the menopause. If you need it, get it.

Answer: It is quite likely that loss of hearing due to meningitis could be overcome.

Elvis to Wear Hair Shorter

CHICAGO (UP)—Elvis Presley, of the duck-tailed, rock 'n' roll coiffure, will soon be wearing his hair shorter than that of a "houn' dawg."

Presley made the announcement here Thursday shortly before he went on stage to gyrate before more than 13,000 wild-eyed teenagers in a one night stand at Chicago's International Amphitheatre.

So, unless Uncle Sam replaces the singer's gold lame suit with one of olive drab before his next picture gets rolling, it will be at studio make-up man who shears the wavy, side-burned locks instead of an Army barber.

'Mama' Again Slated For Burial April 7

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UP) — The channel swim. . . .

CBS-TV will bury "I Remember Mama" again. The funeral is set for April 7. "Mama," announced as a goner last year, was wheeled out of the morgue this season when fans snowed under CBS with squawks.

Charlie Van Doren, the $129,000 winner on "Twenty One," has turned down a free trip to Belgium to meet King Baudouin. The Belgian Tourist Bureau offered Charlie the trip after he bobbled a question on the monarch.

ABC-TV is making a new pitch for "Omnibus" — It's dangling a Sunday afternoon time spot for next fall. . .NBC-TV is mulling over a new Western series, "Rustler's Gun" with John Payne, for next season.

Dorothy Collins, who'll part company from "Your Hit Parade" at the end of this semester, will caper in "The Wizard of Oz" this August for the St. Louis Municipal Opera. She has also been approached by a CBS-TV drama show for a one-shot.

Russell Arms, another pending grad of "Your Hit Parade," has been taken over by Gisele MacKenzie's agent — Bob Shuttleworth. . .ABC-TV will switch "Telephone Time" from Thursday to Tuesday night on June 11, as a replacement for "Du Pont Theatre."

Sign of the times: ABC-TV's "Medical Horizons" reports that it has received more requests for copies of its show on ulcers than any other ailment in its series.

Pat Boone, who gets a show of his own on ABC-TV this fall, has been signed in for NBC-TV's June 2 ice spec.

Spring Byington of "December Bride" has taken to yoga. . ."Wide Wide World" is planning a whole show around the American Indian for May 26.

Insulating House Is 'Do-it-yourself' Job

Insulating a house is one of the few major home improvement projects which can be considered a "do-it-yourself" job.

This is because mineral wool batts and blankets are designed specifically for simple installation with only a few ordinary tools.

Here are some suggestions to make the job tight and effective

1. Buy insulation that is at least 3 inches thick. The thicker it is, the more comfortable you'll be and the more fuel you'll save

2. Use the sharpest knife you can find to cut the batts and blankets for odd-sized spaces.

Mineral wool is easy to cut, but a sharp blade speeds the job and makes it more accurate. Always cut along a straight edge, such as a piece of board.

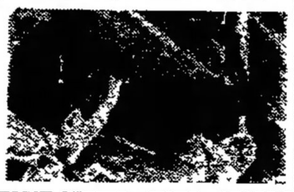
3. Measure spaces carefully, then cut the insulation slightly larger than the space to be filled so that the insulation can be wedged in tightly. Keep in mind that any openings around the edges or small, unfilled spaces will let heat escape like air from a punctured tire.

4. When you cut a piece that is house framing, leave a flange of vapor barrier at the top and bottom of the piece so that the ends can be stapled down.

5. Use a staple gun. It's faster than a hammer and tacks and you'll have one hand free to hold the insulation in place. Staple the side flanges to the studs on both sides, and the end flanges to the wood framing members at the top and bottom of the wall. Space staples 6 inches apart.

6. Install the batts or blankets with the vapor barrier toward the side of the house that is heated in winter.

MINERAL WOOL BLANKETS are ideal for insulating between joists of attic floor. They're laid in place with vapor barrier down.



HOME-OWNER USES STAPLE GUN to fasten side flanges of mineral wool insulation batt to studs.

Many Homes in Need of Repair, Survey Shows

Apparently Americans take better care of their automobiles than their homes.

A survey of the 50 million-plus U. S. dwellings reveals the appalling story that 35 million need some attention and repair. Only 14 percent of all U. S. homes are considered in good repair. Eight million homes, according to the committee ACTION, are near slum status or actually are slums.

The encouraging fact is that many older homes are solid as the stout frames of Douglas fir lumber can make them, but most are in need of a simple face-lifting to make them modern. There is an ample supply of top quality siding lumber, such as Douglas fir, west coast hemlock and western red cedar now available for this remodeling job, and at the lowest prices in several years.

Oftentimes the interior of older homes can be up-dated by working over the walls, covering delapidated plaster and wallpaper with classy, wood-paneled walls. Older floors will respond beautifully to sanding and refinishing.

It is estimated by ACTION that our citizens have $220 billion invested in their homes. It is an investment which is worth protecting, for homes seldom shrink in value if they are kept in good repair.

Poisoning Hits More Children Than Diseases

Accidental poisoning claims the life of more children annually in the United States than polio, diphtheria and scarlet fever combined.

With curious toddlers on the prowl, a floor-level cabinet is no place to store toxic substances They should be placed on the top shelf of a wall-installed bathroom medicine cabinet where children can't get at them, the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau emphasizes.

Modern bathroom medicine cabinets have an abundance of storage space. Twin compartment types, with sliding mirror panel enclosures, provide room on one side for storing a woman's beauty aids, and on the other a man's shaving equipment.

Some cabinets have flanking or overhead lighting. Some include a recessed mirrored shelf at the bottom for displaying ornamental ceramics or cologne decanters.

Water for Heating Suggested

Thirteen exclusive advantages of hot water for heating occupied areas either in residential or other types of buildings are listed by the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau as follows:

1. Water delivers a large amount of heat in small pipes and thus conserves space.

2. Water can be circulated at any temperature between freezing and boiling, hence can be controlled to deliver just the right amount of heat.

3. A water system can be controlled with an outdoor-type thermostat which anticipates weather changes.

4. Water can be circulated through long pipe runs without loss of heating efficiency.

5. Permits all-year use of the house heating boiler to heat the faucet water.

6. Does not carry odors or bacteria through the house.

7. Water loses heat slowly, permitting sustained heating.

8. Heated water emits a large proportion of radiant heat — the basic ingredient of winter comfort.

9 Water permits locating the room heat distributors along the cold outer walls where they block out incoming cold and drafts.

10. A water system is a lifetime installation.

11. Permits easy installation of heating in home additions

12. The only practical system for snow melting.

13 Can be inexpensively zoned for better temperature control and fuel economy.

Keep Electric Blankets Clean To Work Well

Keeping electric blankets clean is not difficult when the proper technique is followed Many homemakers are hesitant to immerse electric blankets for fear of damaging the delicate wiring However, a gentle washing in lukewarm solution of soapy water or detergent water won't harm the blanket.

A galvanized steel laundry tub will make the job easier. Make a loose knot of the blanket's cord around the side handle of the tub to prevent the cord from getting wet. Soak the blanket for five or ten minutes in the washing solution but do not scrub it Make a second suds at the same temperature and drop the blanket in it Squeeze out as much water as possible, but do it gently and again, do not scrub or mangle the blanket

Rinse in clear lukewarm water and squeeze out as much water as possible. Never spin or tumble the blanket, since that would harm the blanketharm daonp donlad donald delicate wiring. Lay the blanket over two parallel clothes lines and shake it to straighten the hems When the blanket is dry, the binding may be pressed with a lukewarm iron if desired. In all phases of washing an electric blanket, use gentleness and the blanket will last for years.

Washing Home Can Save Annual Cost of Painting

Scrub brush, soap and water can save the annual cost of painting wood siding on frame homes and wood trim on brick omes Naturally, washing the home won't do away with painting entirely, but it will reduce the frequency of nessary painting.

Usually, the weather of just one winter soils the siding or trim of a home enough that painting appears necessary. Washing off the surface dirt, however, can stave off costly painting for another year, or even two.

Washing the exterior walls of a home is an easy job, provided the right method is used. A scrub brush, two galvanized steel pails filled with hot, soapy water, a garden hose and an extension ladder are all the equipment needed Pick a section of wall and wash it from the bottom up. The reason for the bottom-to-top procedure is to prevent dirty washing water from running down onto still-dirty walls causing hard-to-remove streaks.

When the section is completely washed, from bottom to top, rinse it down with the garden hose and move on to the next section.

Where wood trim or window frames on a brick home are to be washed, follow the same bottom-to-top method.

Two galvanized steel pails filed with hot, soapy water are recommended, rather than only one, to save trips for extra water.

Use Pails as Party Cigarette Snuffers

Parties can have unfortunate results when a carelessly discarded cigarette butt ignites flammable decorations.

Place several sandfilled galvanized steel pails around the rumpus room to serve as cigarette snuffers.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—I've heard quite a lot lately about using electricity to heat homes It sounds clean and convenient, but doesn't the cost of electric power make it prohibitive for heating..

A—In areas where the electricity rate is low, tests have shown that a house can be heated economically with electricity when thick mineral wool insulation is installed in walls, ceilings and floors. Manufactures of electric-heating equipment recommended a 6-inch thickness of insulation in ceilings, 4 inches in walls and 2 inches in crawl-space floors or around the edge of the concrete slab under a basementless house from escaping from a house, so that it isn't necessary to burn so much fuel. Insulation has the same effect with other types of fuel. too.

Q—Taking showers in our bathtub has loosened all the caulking compound around it. hat's the best way to keep this from happening again?

A—When you re-chaulk. let the compound dry thoroughly, then paint it with a good grade of enamel the same color as the wall or tile around the tub. The waterproofing action of the enamel will make the caulking compound last longer.

Q—We recently purchased an old, three-story house and plan to modernize it. How can we relieve its tall, awkward appearance?

A—Tall houses can be made to look lower by making them longer with a porch, garage or addition on one side. If the house needs a new roof, asphalt shingles in one of the deep tones available will help, since dark junction with this, paint the upper half of the house in a darker color than the lower half.

How to Fix Your Old Screwdrivers

Worn or chipped screwdrivers can be made as good as new Clamp the screwdriver in a vise, then file the end square with a metal file

A grinding wheel can be used too But the screwdriver blade must be dipped in water frequently to prevent the metal from losing the temper.

Garbage Cans Are Important

Although many homeowners depend on incinerators to dispose of their garbage the incinerator cannot burn tin cans, glass bottles and other non-flammable food containers. These objects soon fill up the incinerator and must be removed to permit proper combustion.

This situation may be prevented by keeping a galvanized steel garbage can or refuse pail near the incinerator. When garbage is taken to be burned, the non-inflammable food containers may be placed in the steel refuse container, which is also fireproof.

Banish Odor Quickly

A galvanized steel pail filled with water and set inside a freshly painted room will make the odor vanish quickly.

Blondes Find New Way for Flattery

U. S. blondes, never short on ideas, have come up with a new way to win flattery. Thanks to exploring home designers, blondes now find that certain types of wall decorations are more flattering to their fair complexion.

For instance, wood-pan walls of soft-toned west coast hemlock, finished a-la natural, make a blonde look twice as attractive. Why? Because the pastel shades of this natural wood do not rob the fair-haired damsel of her delicate coloring, but heighten it instead.
